"Wait on the Lord and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see [it]. (Psalm 37:34). The process of waiting is a test of authenticity. Certain that there is no deficiency in God's sense of timing, or direction, we've demonstrated faith knowing every promise has been fulfilled and His children's inheritance will continue to manifest throughout time. An invisible propulsion leads us ever forward and now we victoriously enter, The Next Dimension!

Our relationship with the Lord opened the way to participate in a curriculum of transformation personalized for each of us. In due course, we are renewed with the elements necessary for the mission; all things missing are added and the unnecessary discarded. Streamlined to move with velocity and power we are ready to serve the Kingdom.

Consider Psalm 37:34 once again, it confirms that the rigorous agenda of vision and purpose requires that we eliminate or "cut off" aspects of ourselves that are not in alignment with God's will -every person, habit and activity; for these are nothing short of distraction from the path he has designed and serve only to hinder our ability to recognize and accept the gift that awaits.

Courage and determination fuelled by a passion to see His plan through are all requirements for this journey, but if we wait on Him, He will supply all that is needed to find the way along this road less traveled. "But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew [their] strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; [and] they shall walk, and not faint." (Isa. 40:31).

Beginning October With The Next Dimension

In what has become a highlight of the autumn season, Rhema Christian Ministries present the Next Dimension Conference, 2006. As a time of great impartation and revelation, the days of the conference see capacity attendance at each and every service.

During the first weekend of October (from the 6th to the 8th), Rhema will host Bishop Eddie L. Long, Pastor Paula White and Bishop Tudor Bismark.

Bishop Eddie L. Long began to serve as the Pastor of New Birth Missionary Baptist Church in 1989, and saw an increase of membership rise from around 300 to over 25,000. As an integral part of his ministry, Bishop Long is dedicated to social change, which is highlighted by the mentorship program known as "The Longfellows Summer Academy" for young men aged 12-16, and his award winning contribution in the fight to halt the spread of HIV/AIDS. Reaching far beyond his home state of Georgia, Bishop Long is also a reputed author and spearheaded the release of the gospel album "Spirit and Truth" with songs all based on 'messages given in house'.

Pastor Paula White has been blessed with a potent ministerial approach and a down-to-earth sense of humor, which those in attendance for the Ladies First Conference that Rhema held in Spring 2006 witnessed first hand. Having faced serious trauma and poverty in her youth, her experiences have been transformed into a liberating testimony – it has been said of Paula White that, "she's been there, and she knows how to get out". Over the years, she has reached beyond her pastoral role with her husband at the Without Walls International Church in Tampa, Florida, and has had an international impact, including advising the current and former U.S. presidents, among other world leaders. Whether sitting with a nation's president or the general public, the focus of her ministry is to assist people from every stratum of society in unlocking, "God's unique plan of destiny for their lives".

Bishop Tudor Bismark resides in Zimbabwe's capital city Harare, but ministers all around the globe. Having founded New Life Ministries International in 1989 with his wife ChiChi, he now oversees more than 900 churches touching nearly all of the earth's continents. The focus of New Life Ministries provides spiritual ministry and is involved in humanitarian aid, touching the lives of thousands of people in need. Bishop Bismark has declared that he is focused on 'empowerment' in every sense of the word, and on being, "on the cutting edge of what the Holy Spirit is doing on the earth today".

Neither Bishop Eddie L. Long, Pastor Paula White or Bishop Tudor Bismark are new to the conferences held at Rhema, but we can expect a word of power that is ripe for this season.

Poem: No Limits

Blessed to prosper, designed for success,
I live my life unlike the rest.
Formed and fashioned by God's own hand.
I am aware of who I am.
With a purpose in mind
He has positioned me in time.
I am released to live in victory,
Dare any stand in my way,
Does not God have the final say?
Who is he that will oppose me?

To defend and protect this is the mandate of angels,
Goodness and mercy follow close behind me.
Divine favor leads the way,
I'm free from fear each day.
Triumphant in liberty.

I bind you devil, I cast you out, how dare you show your face.
The blood of Jesus is against you, get up and leave this place!

So what is it that holds you back, thou anointed one?
Is there anything too hard for the Lord in whom you have foundation?

Reach for the top! Fulfill now your call!

You cannot be stopped by nothing, or no one, at all.

Summon your strength, do as Paul has said.

Let God's word become your living bread.

Flex those spiritual muscles, turn up your lion's roar and with every ounce of faith say these words and you will be sure:

I know a good life because I know a good God.

I am designed to prosper, I am destined for success

The fact of the matter is I am supremely blessed.

Some don't like it though no cause they find

Still always I remain at peace, sublime.
