AN EVENING OF EXCELLENCE

Pastor Orim M. Meikle and First Lady Judith R. Meikle request the honour of your presence at The King's Table, An Evening of Excellence, Rhema's Christmas Gala and Awards Event.

Be sure to make room in your calendar for the Black Tie event of the season. You'll dine in elegance, be entertained by great music and dance and have an opportunity to participate in the fun when you bid on items you will certainly want to own during the Silent Auction. Our kids in the Dominican Republic benefit from auction proceeds.

*Dress: Formal
Adults: 18 years and over
Ticket Price: $60 per person*

Greetings!

In This Season, Cultivate Excellence!

The body of Christ is caught in an interesting quandary. Do we continue in the same tradition of meandering through the business of the kingdom, or do we arise to a new sublimity of excellence? The answer is quite simple. Hear the clarion call of "excellence now" resounding throughout the body of Christ; a body which has been plagued and ravished by the diseased mentality of mediocrity. In fact, we have exalted the mundane and have worshipped around the sacred shrine of the menial, all in the name of Jesus Christ. Is it a wonder that in a world that is rapidly pursuing technological, biological and astronomical excellence that the words of Jesus echo, howbeit painfully, in our ears: "The children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light!" (Luke 16:8)?

There are two key things that we need to bear in mind of this pivotal junction in ecclesiastical history. The first thing is that the words of Jesus contrasting the children of light and the children of this world are in fact descriptive words. He is not prescribing a Divine mandate that is to be upon the earth, rather, He is describing a condition that prevails through choice. Instead of ascending to our God given status as light bearers in this world, the people of God have always opted for being under a bushel. But the excellence that we seek now, demands that we be the head and not the tail; above and not beneath! It demands that we be blessed in our coming in and blessed in our going out, through the obedience of faith.

It demands that we walk in the fullness of what God has spoken concerning us in His Word and nothing less. It demands that we rebuke every spirit of lack and apprehend the abundance that has been apportioned to us. Simply stated, excellence now demands that we walk, through radical faith, in the illuminating light of His Word.

The second thing that we need to be cognizant of is the reality of the excellence of God's name. Israel's sweet Psalmist declares, "O LORD our Lord, how excellent is Thy name in all the earth!" (Ps.8: 1). This would necessitate, by association, that whatsoever is done in the name of the Lord must also be excellent. In other words, to do something in the name of the Lord is to do it in His person, or to allow it to bear the characteristics that are befitting to His resplendent personality. Consider well now. Does the ministry that we portray reflect the name of God or has the name of God become a frivolous cliché that we appendix to our words or actions? The answer returns into our bosom again: "excellence now!"

God is calling His people to excellence, a reality that has long been neglected. None is exempt from the call. Pastor, He calls you to excellence in pastoral administration. Preacher, He calls you to excellence in sermonic delivery. Chorister He calls you to a melodic excellence. The players on the instruments, He calls you to symphonic excellence. Teacher, He calls you to didactic excellence. Everyone, everywhere; He calls you to excellence of lifestyle, FOR OUR GOD IS AN EXCELLENT GOD!

Participation

As a whole we have become accustomed to being consumers of the things around us, air, food, water and information to name a few. The era has arrived where it is critical that we transition from consumption to participation.

The most successful economies in the world are those that not only consume goods but also understand this important supply-side principle. A nation's rank, authority and standard of living are not determined solely by how widely available consumable goods are but also the other side of the equation which is the capacity of that nation to produce for the benefit of others. Wealthy nations know that in order to remain relevant, participation in the production of goods which supply others must be sustained.

Relationships: most people are either in one or searching for one.

So it is also in the King's economy wherein participation in the production and creation of all things that affect us is necessary in order to establish dominion. Consuming the Word and resulting blessings is one half the obligation. God expects every individual to then take that blessing and participate in the expansion of His work throughout the globe. His vision is that as He blesses us we then bless others. We "...make his way known on earth..." (Psalm 67:2)

There is greatness in us all, it exists whether or not we can see it. We owe it to each other to participate so that there is an ongoing and robust exchange of information constantly flowing from the genius within to the external world. This is how problems are solved and substance and value are created. If kingdom citizens are not participating then what type of substance and whose values are being produced? Someone once said the "No Parking" sign is one of the best pieces of advice a human being can ever receive. Are you parked or are you participating?
